

Symposium on the Politics of Adult Literacy Education in the United States

The Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) Club at CSU and the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures proudly welcome Dr. Stephen Reder (A.B. Stanford University; Ph.D. Rockefeller University) as keynote speaker to their symposium on the Politics of Adult Literacy Education in the United States. Dr. Reder has served as a member of the Literacy Language and Technology research group at Portland State University and has been the Principal Investigator for numerous major projects in adult education, including the Longitudinal Study of Adult Learning and the National Labsite for Adult ESOL. He has also worked closely with adult literacy and second language learners in a wide variety of program and community settings.

Presenters will include administrators and instructors from North Orange County Community College District (NOCCCD), Orange County Communities Organized for Responsible Development, CSUF professors and staff, M.S. TESOL students and alumni, and keynote speaker, Dr. Stephen Reder.
