INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) program at California State University, Fullerton (CSUF). This document is the student handbook and contains helpful information to guide students through the MPA program.

Mission

The mission of the MPA program at CSUF is to prepare our students for a career in public service by providing a core set of competencies anchored on the foundations of scholarly research and professional practice. Our students develop knowledge, skills, and public service values that equip them to be ethical and exceptional leaders in their communities who act with a commitment to public service, democratic values, accountability, social equity, and diversity.

NASPAA Accreditation

Our MPA program is accredited by the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs and Administration (NASPAA). As such, the goal of the program is to have students do the following:

- Lead and manage in public governance
- Participate in and contribute to the policy process
- Analyze, synthesize, think critically, solve problems and make decisions
- Articulate and apply a public service perspective
- Communicate and interact productively with a diverse and changing workforce and citizenry

Our program was most recently reaccredited by NASPAA in 2011. To learn more about NASPAA, please visit their website at http://www.naspaa.org.

General Facts

CSUF has had a Master in Public Administration program since 1968. Normally we have 100 to 120 students with about 30 of those students graduating every year. We are the only public MPA program in Orange County which means that our alumni are found in most local cities, in many agencies of Orange and Los Angeles counties and in a wide variety of other governmental organizations. We have been a NASPAA accredited MPA program for many years.

Our typical students have worked full time in a public agency for 3 to 6 years. They see themselves as people who have the potential to successfully manage others in the agency or city and come here to acquire the tools to do so. Often their supervisors have suggested that they get an MPA. A smaller number are more advanced and have already risen to a leadership position in their unit and seek the MPA as a way of advancing further. We also have a small number of full time students.
Our expectation is that most students will work full time and need classes in the evening. Because of this, most of our courses are offered from 7:00 to 9:45 PM, once a week. Courses are delivered in a traditional, “face-to-face” classroom setting. We do not currently offer a dual degree with any other programs, nor do we offer an accelerated or “fast-track” program.

We currently have ten core faculty members teaching the MPA program as well as several other affiliated faculty members. A list of program faculty along with their credentials is provided at on the last page of this handbook.

The MPA Program is housed in the Division of Politics, Administration & Justice, which itself part of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences at CSUF.

Admissions

We have both Spring and Fall admissions. Spring admissions typically open on August 1 and close October 1, while fall admissions typically open on October 1 and close March 31.

Admissions Process

The prospective student applies to the university online at: http://csumentor.edu/admissionapp/grad_apply.asp

Additional information on graduate admissions is available at: http://www.fullerton.edu/catalog/pdf/Admissions_And_Registration.pdf#Admissions

You are required to have official transcripts sent to CSUF's Office of Admissions and Records. You must send a set of transcripts from all universities and community colleges you have attended. These should be originals sent from the institution.

The prospective student must also send all of the following material to the MPA program:

- A set of transcripts from all universities and community colleges you have attended (can be unofficial but must be sent directly to the program).
- Statement of purpose/interest
- Current resume
- Two letters of recommendation (if possible one from an immediate supervisor and one from a professor). Letters of rec can come directly from letter writer.
- An admissions checklist that must be included with your application: http://hss.fullerton.edu/paj/MPA/pdf/2014/MPA_graduate_admission_checklist.pdf

The above materials should be sent to the following address:

Public Administration Coordinator,
Public Administration Program,
California State University, Fullerton
PO Box 6848 Fullerton, CA 92834-6848.
Admissions Criteria

Our minimum requirement for GPA is a 2.75 in your undergraduate degree. The average GPA of our accepted students is 3.3 and we typically have far more applicants than we can admit. For all students, we look at your grades in the last 60 units, how well you performed in your major, any experience in the public sector, the quality of your written statement of purpose, and letters of recommendation. The higher your grades, the less we will need to weigh your supporting documents. GRE scores are not required, but should be sent to the above address if you have them.

Cost of Degree

Tuition Cost

Tuition Fees for Academic Year 2016-2017 per semester:
Part Time (0-6 units): $1,953.00
Full Time (7 or more units): $3,369.00
Other Campus-Based Fees: $544.00

Internship Placement

The internship is required of students who have little to no experience working in the public or non-profit sector which is very few of our students.
The required internship includes a 3-unit class with written work requirements and 300 hours of internship experience in a public or nonprofit organization; as fits the mission of our program, most students intern in local government. Several decades of this internship class have resulted in a list of potential internship opportunities that exceeds 80 organizations.

Students can also earn their internship credit by spending a summer in a public or nonprofit agency internship in Washington D.C. These students often intern with the U.S. Departments of Agriculture or Interior, or a nonprofit organization.

The internship coordinator has a long list of placement leads for students who need help securing an internship. This list has been cultivated for decades as have program relationships with agencies/alumni who frequently contact the program to invite intern applications.

Our MPA students secure paid internships in about one-third of cases. To offset the opportunity costs of unpaid internships, Bruce Lawson (CSUF MPA 1972), has provided financial support through the Lawson Internship in Public Service Award for the past 12 semesters. This award provides a $1,500 scholarship to one student each semester based on a competitive application that is evaluated by program faculty.

In 2015/16, nine students enrolled in the POSC 497 Public Administration Internship. Of these, three students secured paid employment before the end of their internship experience; one was hired on as a full-time employee, moving from his initial placement in human resources to finance (his MPA concentration field).

During 2015/16 our students interned in Human Resource Departments in the cities of Santa Ana and Anaheim; the Energy and Sustainability Program in Huntington Beach; Community Services in Fullerton; the City Manager’s office in San Dimas; Department of Finance (later City Manager’s office) in Fountain Valley; with the U.S. Department of Justice, U.S. Marshall’s office; an emergency management consultant working for the City of Westminster; and the CSUF Veteran’s Resource Center.

Structure of the Program

General

Conferment of the MPA degree requires 13 courses (39 units) with a ‘B’ average or better (with at least a ‘C’ in all courses) and successful passage of the comprehensive exams in general public administration and in a concentration area; on very rare occasions a student will opt to write a master thesis.

Prerequisites

The prerequisite courses are American Government, Statistics and either Micro-economics or Macro-economics. American Government must be taken before beginning any MPA courses. The other two prerequisites may be taken during your first year in the program; they may be taken at CSUF, or any other accredited college or university. Students must earn a “C” or better in these courses. Prerequisites do not count toward your graduate degree or graduate GPA.
Students who have not studied public administration before should take POSC 509 Foundations of Public Administration in their first year.

Core Courses

Students are required to take courses in administrative behavior, methods, public finance, human resources, one of three courses in either local government management, state and local government, or public policy, and finally a capstone course, which is taken in the fall semester before the comprehensive exams.

Concentrations

The program has field concentrations in criminal justice, human resource management, public finance, urban management. Students are required to choose one concentration and take courses in that area.

Electives

The balance of courses can come from elsewhere in the program or from approved courses in other related disciplines. Students can take both 400 level courses and 500 level courses, but no more than 50% of total courses can be 400 level courses. Also, not all POSC courses are approved for MPA students. The general rule is that it should be related to administration. See the list of approved courses below.

Comprehensive Exam

Students take a comprehensive exam in their last semester. The exam tests their knowledge of the general field of public administration and their chosen concentration.

Comprehensive Exam

The comprehensive exam is administered in January each year. Students must answer two questions: one general public administration question and one question from their concentration.

Requirements

Students must have successfully completed all core courses including POSC 521 Seminar in Public Administration Theory in order to take the comprehensive exam. Students must have also successfully completed the core course in their concentration areas.

Grading

Answers to the general questions and concentration questions are graded independently. Students can earn a High Pass, Pass, Low Pass, and Fail on the comprehensive exam questions. A failing grade on either or both of the questions results in a retake. A failing grade is earned when two of the exam readers assign it to an answer.

Retakes

If a student earns a failing grade on the exam, that student has one opportunity to retake the answer to earn a passing grade. The period for retakes is in the same semester, shortly after the exam grades are released. Students who fail to pass the retaken exam may be disqualified from the program, or at the committee’s discretion, may be allowed to complete an oral exam.

Thesis Option

As an alternative to the comprehensive exam, students may opt to complete a thesis. This requires enrollment in the following course and the formation of a thesis committee.

• POSC 598 Thesis, 3 units
Very few students elect this option and students are strongly encouraged to complete the comprehensive exam instead.

Advisement

The program coordinator and the graduate adviser serve as advisers to all MPA students, and will assist students in academic program planning, selection of an area of specialization, application of transfer credits, and choice of electives. The graduate adviser is also responsible for advising students on matters pertaining to the internship and administrative procedures. Other faculty members in the division are available to assist students on an individual basis. In order to make an appointment to meet with the MPA adviser, please call the Division Office at 657-278-3521 (open 8:00 am to 5:00 pm on business days), and the staff will assist you.

From the office of Graduate Studies:

University policy provides that each student’s program for the master’s degree shall be under the guidance of an adviser and for some programs, a thesis or project committee as well. A graduate program adviser is designated in each department or program to give overall supervision for the graduate program. In some departments, the graduate program adviser also serves as the individual student’s adviser. Policies and procedures related to graduate committees are available in the Graduate Studies Office.

It is the responsibility of the student to arrange appointments for advisement and other information in the office of the academic unit offering the degree program. At a minimum, the student should obtain advisement (1) either prior to or during the first semester of attendance, (2) when requesting classified standing, and (3) when applying for a graduation check prior to the final semester.

It is advisable for the student to maintain a personal file of transcripts and other evidence of grades and achievements, and to have these documents available whenever seeking advisement.

MILESTONES TOWARD COMPLETION OF THE DEGREE

First Semester:

GRADUATE ACADEMIC STANDARDS

Study Plan

A Study Plan must be filed with the Graduate Studies Office before nine units of Study Plan coursework have been completed at CSUF toward a graduate degree. A sample study plan is provided at the end of the Student Handbook. The form is also available on our website.

Requirements for Master’s Degree

General requirements for all master’s degree Study Plans include the following:
1. a minimum of 30 approved semester units (some programs require more);
2. at least 21 semester units must be taken in residence.
3. only 400- and 500-level courses may be used on the Study Plans (Not all 400-level courses are approved). A graduate student enrolled in an approved 400-level course will be required to complete additional assignments as determined by the instructor.
4. normally 70 percent of all Study Plan courses will be at the 500-level (With prior approval, upon the recommendation of the Graduate Education Committee, programs may permit students to include up to 50 percent of coursework at the 400-level);
5. no more than 9 units of postbaccalaureate work taken at CSUF prior to admission
6. no more than 6 semester units shall be allowed for a thesis or project;
7. maximum of 6 semester units of independent study;
8. no courses taken to satisfy prerequisite requirements;
9. no correspondence courses and/or credit by examination;
10. no courses with nontraditional grades (e.g., CR, S, P);
11. each course on the Study Plan must be completed with a grade of “C” (2.0) or better; some programs require a grade higher than “C” (2.0) in specific coursework;
12. a minimum grade-point average of 3.0 (“B”) in all courses
13. completion of all Study Plan courses within 10 consecutive semesters (five years) or 14 consecutive semesters (seven years) with approved extension
14. all courses must be taken after completion of the baccalaureate
15. no courses credited toward another degree; and
16. a final evaluation, which may be a thesis, a project, a comprehensive examination, or any combination of these.

Grade Point Average Requirements

A grade point average (grade points divided by units attempted) of at least 3.0 is required for graduation with a graduate degree. This grade point average applies to (1) all 400- and 500-level units attempted subsequent to admission to a degree program; and (2) all units required on the graduate Study Plan including transfer courses. Each course on the master’s Study Plan must be completed with a grade of “C” (2.0) or better.

A master’s degree student may request a change in the Study Plan in order to raise the Study Plan grade point average by:
1. adding no more than six units of approved coursework, or
2. repeating no more than six units of coursework in which a “C” (2.0) or lower was earned, or
3. a combination of 1. and 2. not to exceed six units.

Requests to add courses to the Study Plan, repeat courses, or add courses to raise the overall grade point average, must be approved by the graduate program adviser and the associate vice president, Graduate Programs and Research (or designee) prior to registration. When a course is added or repeated, the original course remains on the Study Plan and on the student’s transcript and both grades are used in calculating the student’s grade point average.

Repeated Courses

For master’s degree students, if a grade less than “C” (2.0) is received in a Study Plan course, the course must be repeated and passed with a grade of “C” (2.0) or better. A course may be repeated only once. If a course is repeated, both grades are included when computing the student’s Study Plan and cumulative CSUF grade point average. Repetition of a course carries no additional unit credit toward the degree; however, the additional units are included in the cumulative units shown on the CSUF transcript.

In extenuating circumstances, the student may petition the associate vice president, Graduate Programs and Research (or designee) to add another course to the approved program with the unit value equivalent to that of the course in which the unsatisfactory grade was received.

Probation

A student enrolled in a graduate degree program will be placed on academic probation if either the graduate or the Study Plan grade point average falls below 3.0. A graduate student may also be placed on probation for reasons other than graduate and/or Study Plan grade point average. This is known as administrative-academic probation. The reasons for this may include repeated withdrawal, failure to progress toward an educational objective, non-compliance with an academic requirement, failure to demonstrate a level of professional competence or fitness commensurate with the standards of the student’s discipline, or inappropriate behavior as defined in the Student Bill of Rights and Responsibilities and in the Academic Dishonesty sections of this catalog (see “University Regulations”).

Students will remain on administrative academic probation contingent upon conditions required for their continuing in the program. The Graduate Studies Office maintains a list of students on probation and subject to disqualification.

Disqualification

The associate vice president, Graduate Programs and Research (or designee), in consultation with the student’s graduate program adviser, will disqualify a master’s student who is on probation if the student does not, or cannot, raise the Study Plan and graduate grade point average to 3.0 by the completion of the second regular semester following the semester in which the grade point average fell below the minimum 3.0 standard. If a student’s grade point average becomes so low that it cannot be raised to 3.0 within the prescribed limits of coursework, the student will be disqualified from the graduate degree program.

Students placed on probation for reasons other than grade point average will be disqualified if:

1. the conditions for removal of administrative-academic probation are not met within the period specified;
2. the student becomes subject to academic probation while on administrative-academic probation; or
3. the student is removed from administrative-academic probation and subsequently becomes subject to administrative-academic probation for the same or similar reasons as originally placed on probation.

Disqualification removes a student from graduate standing and prevents further enrollment in University courses (except through University Extended Education). A student who has been disqualified from a master’s degree program may not apply for readmission to that program. A student who has been disqualified from one degree program may apply for readmission to a different degree program. A readmitted student must file a new Study Plan that meets current requirements and policies. Any disqualified student who wishes to use previous coursework must have it approved by the associate vice president, Graduate Programs and Research (or designee). Appeals related to graduate degree probation or disqualification should first be directed to the graduate program adviser.

Leaves of Absence

Continuous enrollment is a normal expectation of graduate degree. Graduate degree students may be granted a leave of absence (LOA) to maintain continuous enrollment. An LOA is normally not granted for more than one semester; however, a student may submit a request for up to two consecutive semesters and maintain their place in the university and in degree programs (i.e., they do not have to reapply to the university following the leave), if approved. An LOA granted to a degree objective student also preserves the election of curriculum rights regarding catalog requirements. However, a leave granted by the University does not extend time limitations imposed by the State for completing degree requirements.

A LOA may be granted to (1) conditionally classified or classified graduate students in good academic standing who have completed at least 6 units while in residence at this university toward the degree.

Grounds for requesting a leave of absence include:
   A. Illness or disability (permanent or temporary) or similar personal exigencies including pregnancy that makes it impossible or inadvisable for a student to register for classes.
   B. Activities which enhance a student’s professional career objectives.
   C. Active duty in the armed forces of the United States.
   D. Severe financial hardship.
   E. Other reasons at the discretion of the Associate Vice President for Academic Programs.

Leave requests for two consecutive semesters require appropriate substantial documentation detailing the circumstances (e.g., doctor’s note, employer’s verification, etc.) That makes it impossible or inadvisable to register for classes and approval by the student’s department.

An approved leave of absence authorizes the student to return and continue under the catalog requirements that applied prior to the absence.

In the case of non-approved breaks in enrollment, reapplication for admission to the university and to the chosen degree program will be required. A place in the degree program or in the university will not be held for the student in these circumstances.

Academic Integrity

Academic dishonesty is a serious offense in higher education. It includes such things as cheating, inventing false information or citations, plagiarism, and helping someone else commit an act of academic dishonesty. Cheating is the act of obtaining or attempting to obtain credit for work by the use of any dishonest, fraudulent, or unauthorized means. Plagiarism is that act of taking the specific substance of another and offering it as one's own without giving credit to the source. For example, cutting and pasting from a website without quotation marks and a citation of the source, is an act of plagiarism. You may cite your sources in whatever format is most common in your specific field of study, but make sure that each source is cited in the text and listed at the end of the document with important information including author, date, publication title, and page number. Plagiarism will not be tolerated. Students committing an act of academic dishonesty will immediately be assigned an appropriate academic penalty and reported to the Judicial Officer on campus. Familiarize yourself with the academic dishonesty policy, which can be found in the student handbook or on the web at the Judicial Affairs Office in the Dean of Students Office. These penalties are potentially very severe and include suspension and expulsion from the CSU system schools.
Below are some of the campus resources available to you on this topic.

COMPLETION OF DEGREE AND GRADUATION

A student who has been granted classified standing becomes a candidate for graduation after a request is submitted and the fee is paid for graduation by the student and an affirmative recommendation is made by the graduate program adviser. An overall minimum graduate grade-point average of 3.0 (B) for all 400-, and 500-level coursework attempted subsequent to admission to a degree program, including all transfer work and previous coursework approved for use in the graduate career, and an overall minimum grade-point average of 3.0 for all Study Plan coursework is required. Other scholastic, professional and personal standards, the passing of examinations, and other qualifications, may be required.

Deadlines

All coursework for the degree, except final course examinations, must be submitted by the last day of classes, in order to assure granting of the degree by the end of the semester or session. The degree is awarded upon the satisfactory completion of all state and University requirements, as well as the specific requirements approved on the student’s graduate Study Plan. Award of the degree also requires the recommendation of the appropriate graduate program adviser and committee, the approval of the faculty, and the approval of the associate vice president, Graduate Programs and Research (or designee).

Applying for Graduation

Students must apply for a graduation check and pay the graduation and diploma fee prior to the deadline.

The last date to file the application is listed in the Registration Guide for each regular semester and is posted on the Graduate Studies website.

Housing for a full semester is approximately $4,000 and for the summer is approximately $3,000. Tuition is the exact same as if you were taking the classes on the home CSU Fullerton campus. Airfare runs approximately $450 for a round trip ticket. Similar programs often charge thousands of dollars more. Students should contact us at dcinterns@fullerton.edu for exact information about costs and about available financial assistance.
