Dear:

Cal State Fullerton is coming to Washington, D.C. for the second year in a row! We are pleased to announce that our second class of the CSUF D.C. Internship Program will be in D.C. from May 29 – August 10, 2007.

The students will work as interns in a variety of offices while participating in two University classes, "Practicing Politics" and "Internship in Politics." These courses will be taught by a faculty member in the division of Politics, Administration, and Justice, Dr. Stephen Stambough, and a number of guest lecturers. Although the program is administered through the College of Humanities & Social Sciences, our outreach efforts have also included students in the arts, mathematics, science, communications, business and economics, health and human development and education.

As an alumnus of Cal State Fullerton, we would like to invite you to participate in the program. There are many opportunities to become involved, and we hope that you will consider assisting us in some way. Most importantly, we are currently looking for some additional internship positions for the students. If you, your organization or company, or a colleague might be able to assist, please let us know by completing the enclosed form.

We also look forward to seeing you in Washington, D.C., in mid-June when we host a reception for alumni, student interns, and internship hosts. If you have any questions, or would like to contact someone by phone or email about your interest in becoming involved, please contact Jeff Vanderslice, D.C. Program Student Assistant, College of Humanities & Social Sciences at (714) 278-8475 or dcinterns2@fullerton.edu.

Thank you for your support of the students in the CSUF D.C. Internship Program.

Sincerely,
