VII. Public Speakers.

- Titan Link Road Show presented by Pam Xue.
Student Life and Leadership representative discussed Titan Link. Student life and Leadership exists to assist students. Asked to fill out mission statement survey so that they could understand student's needs as far as mission for the organization. Titan Link is a program that was created with the purpose of making student involvement easier for clubs and organizations as well as students who want to be involved. Can look at attendance, event organizing (reserving event space), elections, etc. with the use of Titan Link. This is a "one stop shop" place for all previous actions organizations in ICC's would have needed to complete. Students who want to be involved can indicate they'd like to be involved.
Dean McKenzie asked about blue printing, Ms. Xue stated that once you complete blue print training as usual you could then fill out the form through Titan Link and then send them to the correct department.
Most organizations have been integrated into Titan Link, besides ASI because of policies and procedures.
There will be more Titan Link sessions starting from 10/13-11/4, which will be more targeted on specific parts of Titan Link.
- Jeremy Wilson from NSM ICC will be present to answer questions regarding NSM ICC's Proposal before the ASI Board of Directors next week, Oct. 20th, 2015.
Questions/Concerns for NSM:
 1. Concern: informing students, having the petition passed around, have about 200 signatures for students, asked what Jeremy was response was.
Jeremy stated: he felt that the conversation that has been swayed effects the petition and that student fees should be spent on students and it is a tangible way to do that. Brings attention to colleges and to CSUF and that there is student awareness of the ICC's.

2. Jeremy described the positives: see the opportunity for a large speaker as opportunity for students to feel involved and understand what the colleges can offer. He wants students to be excited about CSUF and the resources that they can offer.
3. Was asked what was the tangible result of the last event? He explained the Expanded the council and the visibility of the council – was able to increase number
4. Concern: that the myth busters are not college graduates, that they do not do the actual Experiments. Price is an issue with the cost benefit.
5. Will having a celebrity guest maintain the “spark” onto next year? Just because there is a celebrity doesn’t mean it will maintain the excitement.
6. Was asked what other speakers were considered? Elem Musk but his price was way too much- also considered Stephen Hawking but he was too much

VIII. H&SS Week Committee.

- Break out sessions on planning for H&SS week.
Break out into teams of 4 to discuss potential speakers for HSS week, the types of things the reps would like to see, and the potential theme.
Ideas Discussed:
 - Group 1- Michael Kimmel/Jackson Kats (gender equality from male perspective)
Patricia Collins (intersectionality- intersection of identity)
CJ Pascow (writer, trans rights)
Bring in alumni from college – how students can be successful
 - Group 2- Cal Penn (Kumar from Harold and Kumar – worked in white house)
Discussed bringing a theme.
 - Group 3- Need a theme
David Christenson (works with Bill Gates for high school text books – new way to teach History)
 - Group 4- Theme suggestion: student presentation at the end of HSS WEEK
Frank Warren (Post Secret- send secrets in and compile secrets in week)
Local Politician, such as Ed Royce
JK Rowling
- Question was asked if we will be using big speaker or multiple small speakers
- Alumni suggestion: liberal arts major who has “made it big” who would be willing to speak on alumni experiences
- Should we encourage large entertainers or scholars?
- Good outreach is important
- What has been done previously? Departments have been left to decide what they would like to do. Not everyone has to do something however you have that option.
- Suggestion: should be encompassing all aspects of HSS so perhaps two speakers would be best
